

BRITISH SIMMENTAL

CATTLE SOCIETY

REMINDER: NEXT GENERATION FEMALE & WEANED CALF SALE, FRIDAY 3RD DECEMBER

- Closing date for entries is 4th October
- All entries must be DNA sire verified

A quick but important reminder that the closing date for entries to the Society's new Next Generation Sale of Females & Weaned Calves is the 4th October. This exciting new fixture is for all classes of pedigree Simmental females, and with a further section for pedigree Simmental Weaned Calves born in the 2021 year. Held on one day, the fixture will see a show for the females, followed by the weaned calves with classes for bulls and heifers, and with the sale itself held thereafter.

As outlined at the time of launch, it is the aim that this fixture can quickly establish itself to be a showcase sale for the Simmental breed that provides the quality, performance and genetics for 'next generation' cornerstone cattle in herds across the UK. The introduction of a weaned calf section for registered calves born in the year of the sale we think is an exciting inclusion and a new way for breeders to market calves with breeding, style and potential. We have been delighted with the interest in this fixture and very much hope that you will be able to support it.

PLEASE NOTE: All entries both in the female and weaned calf sections, must be DNA sire verified prior to the sale. When sending hair samples for sale animals to the Society's offices, please write 'SALE ANIMAL' on the bag. These samples will be prioritised by the office.

To enter animals into the sale online then please visit the H&H website <https://harrisonandhetherington.co.uk/entry-forms/pedigree-beef-online/?catid=62&cat=simmental>

To see the full schedule then please visit the Sales section of the Society's website at www.britishtsimmental.co.uk

This new Next Generation Sale of Simmental Females & Weaned Calves will be held at Harrison & Hetherington's Borderway Mart, Carlisle on Friday 3rd December.

Further to the recent announcement on Facebook, the Society is pleased to announce that Colin Inglis of the Greencap Simmental herd, Craegorry, Dalachy Farm, Aberdour, Fife will be the inaugural judge at the new Next Generation show and sale fixture.

The Greencap pedigree herd consists of 30 Simmental breeding females that are run alongside 120 commercial cows and 300 ewes. Dalachy Farm is run with the help of Colin's dad, as Colin is also a self-employed contractor. Selling various bulls into pedigree herds, the herd's top sale price to date is the 9000gns achieved for Greencap Kane at Stirling in October 2020 when sold to Michael Durno's Auchorachan herd. Also performing in the showing, the Greencap herd won the Junior Championship at the 2019 Royal Highland Show with the young bull Greencap Jaeger.

BRITISH SIMMENTAL OPEN DAY ON 14TH OCTOBER AT STRATHISLA FARMS, BLAIRGOWRIE

The British Simmental Cattle Society, in conjunction with the Scottish Simmental Club, are delighted to announce a British Simmental Open Day at Strathisla Farms, Moolies, Meikle, Blairgowrie, Perthshire on Thursday 14th October, and by kind permission of Adrian Ivory.

Strathisla Farms comprises of 250 breeding cows including 150 commercials, 60 pedigree Simmentals, 45 pedigree Charolais, and a few Shorthorns. All males are kept entire and finished off the farm to ABP in Perth. Any heifers which are not retained are either sold through United Auctions or sold privately to repeat buyers on the farm. 1,500 acres of wheat, spring barley and winter barley is also harvested each year and land is rented out to a neighbour for peas, potatoes and blackcurrants.

Simmental bulls are predominantly used on the commercial herd, and the Open Day will be a very commercial perspective on how the Simmental fits into the Strathisla Farms system. On the day there will be the opportunity to view the commercial cattle, look round the pedigree Simmentals, and the bulls forward for the Stirling Sale will also be on view and with their respective figures.

Commenting, Adrian Ivory said: "The day is open to all and we look forward to welcoming visitors to Strathisla Farms. In support of viewing the cattle, figures will be readily available to all visitors and questions and discussion welcomed. One of our key performance indicators (KPI) is days to slaughter. This is one where the Simmental has excelled, and we believe this is going to be even more important going forward with the greening of cattle becoming more and more prominent. Another KPI is dead weight gain per day and again this is another area where the Simmental continues to perform very well. We are trying to produce a medium sized cow who will wean 50% of her body weight at 200 days of age, and this is the area we have been concentrating most on recently. We hope to show you that what you see with your eye is backed up by the numbers."

Speaking on behalf of the Society, BSCS President Stewart Stronach said: "I'd like to thank Strathisla Farms for hosting this Open Day. We very much hope to put on more of these types of commercial open days around the UK and showing the performance and profitability of the Simmental breed at first hand."

The day will commence from 1.00pm and light refreshments will be available. Look out for further updates on Facebook as the 14th October approaches.

BOOKINGS NOW OPEN: ADVERTISE IN THE SOCIETY'S 51st ANNUAL REVIEW!

It's that time of the year again (!) and members are invited to advertise in the BSCSs' 51st Annual Review. We were delighted with the support and reaction to last year's review and we very much hope that you will choose to advertise again this year, or perhaps place an advert for the first time, or the first time in a while! The closing date for adverts is Monday 22nd November.

Costs have again been maintained at previous rates. Last year we offered a little extra value by including all Review adverts on the Society's website, and by including them throughout the year on the Society's Facebook page. This proved very popular and we're happy to offer this again this year to support members. Bookings are now being taken and please find enclosed an order form for you to complete and return to the Society. The order form outlines the sizes you can book and also the costs of the respective adverts.

The premier publication of the Society, we will this year be aiming for the Review to be 200 colour pages of news, articles, reports, and information around the British Simmental breed. Publication of the 51st Review will be aimed at late January/early February in 2022. Copies will again be posted to members and in addition to the agricultural media, international associations, colleges and universities, and to a list of industry influencers. The Review will also be available at shows, sales, and events through the 2022 year.

We very much hope that you will support and advertise in the British Simmental 51st Annual Review and are happy to discuss any requirements you may have. If you have any Review queries, then please do contact the office on 02476 696513 or email: information@britishsimmental.co.uk

DNA PROCESS & REMINDERS

A reminder to all members regarding DNA requirements and the collection of samples. With the move to SNP DNA, the laboratory requires good quality samples for the extraction of DNA. The DNA is held in the root follicle and not in the hair itself. The best and largest root follicles are on the tail hairs at the switch end of the tail. 40-60 hairs, which should be clean and dry, must be pulled from the tail and not cut.

Once collected the hairs should be placed in a DNA bag and clearly labelled up with the details of the animal that the hair has been taken from, and for return to the office. If more than one animal is being collected, then ensure hands are clean between collecting the samples to avoid cross contamination. Poor quality samples or too few hairs may result in second samples being required if the lab is unable to extract the DNA.

The process of extracting DNA by SNP method takes a standard three working weeks before we may be informed in any instance that the sample is not of good enough quality and a repeat sample is required. There is no way to speed up this process.

The office is already receiving hair samples for sale animals for the 2022 Spring Sales which is giving plenty of time for the DNA to be processed and results received back. PLEASE NOTE: All entries for the Next Gen Sale in December require samples sending as soon as possible if not already submitted.

This is also just a further reminder that all first calving females need to be DNA sire verified in order for their first calf to be registered. If you are unfortunate enough to lose a female during or shortly after calving remember to collect two hair samples, one to send to office and one as a reserve sample in case the lab is unable to extract the DNA from the first sample. For any further information around the DNA process and testing then please call the office on 02476 696513 or email information@britishsimmental.co.uk

'HEAVEN SENT' CORSKIE COW IS CROWNED THE 2021 SIMMENTAL 'VIRTUAL' SHOW CHAMPION

- Mixbury Hall stock bull Tillbrook Frank Overall Reserve
- 754 pedigree Simmentals entered the online competition
- Cow class sees 197 entries

The 2021 Simmental 'Virtual' Show Overall Supreme Champion is the outstanding five-year-old cow Corskie Heaven from the well-known Corskie Simmental herd of WJ & J Green, Garmouth, Fochabers. Taking the Overall Reserve Supreme Champion position was the Male Champion, Tillbrook Frank from VC Bailey, Mixbury Hall Farm, Mixbury, Brackley, Northamptonshire.

An entirely online show first organised by the British Simmental Cattle Society last year, the second staging of the competition saw a remarkable 754 Simmentals entered over the respective twelve classes.

2016 born, Corskie Heaven, a Dirnanean Bradley daughter out of Corskie Eve, did it the 'hard way' by coming through an incredible class of 197 cows, the largest entry in the classes, before lifting the Female Championship and moving on to take the blue riband top title.

Judging the final Championship was Anne MacPherson of the highly noted Blackford herd at Blackford, Croy, Inverness. Commenting Anne said: "The Champion Corskie Heaven is a great example of a Simmental cow; she is very feminine with nice smooth flesh and plenty of length. She's my type of female and very much shows the maternal traits which are important for the Simmental breed. Congratulations also to Mixbury Hall. Tillbrook Frank looks a really modern, powerful bull with tremendous muscle and length."

On behalf of the Green family, Laura Beattie said: "It's fantastic to win this competition and from such an entry both in numbers and quality. Corskie Heaven is just a really nice, feminine cow and we're delighted that she's gone all the way. We had eight entries in the cow class and six of them placed in the top twenty, so we are very proud of all the cows! Corskie Heaven is a Dirnanean Bradley daughter and Bradley has bred exceptionally well in the herd. Heaven's dam, Corskie Eve is by Corskie Valiant, a homebred bull who himself had a strong show career for the herd, including being Overall Champion at the 2009 Scottish National Show. The Society's 'Virtual' Show has been great again this year and it's been so good to 'show off' cattle that have not been able to go out into the show ring over this last couple of years."

It was a strong showing for the Northamptonshire based Mixbury Hall herd who also lifted the Reserve Female Championship with the Spring born heifer calf Mixbury Hall Milly. Taking the Reserve Male Championship was Rockytop Luca, from Gary and Angela Christie's Rockytop herd, Glass, Huntly. The May 2020 born Rockytop Luca, had initially won the young bull class in the competition.

The Simmental 'Virtual' Show was established in 2020 to bring 'some fun and competition' for members with there being no summer show season during the Covid pandemic. Such was the popularity of the competition that the 'Virtual' Show was rolled out for a second staging this year and was supported with a massive entry.

Overall and Female Champion Corskie Heaven

Male Champion Tillbrook Frank

Each of the respective classes had a young profile judge who announced their results on a weekly basis and with a supporting video talking about their results. Come Championship time and Craig Hollingsworth of the Midhope herd, Sheffield, judged the Females, whilst Alan Burleigh of the Derrycallaghan herd, Lisnaskea judged the Males. It was then over to Anne MacPherson to judge this year's Overall Supreme Champion. Tom Hill of the Scotland Hill herd, Doncaster, had the difficult but enviable task of judging the 197 strong cow class from which the Overall Champion emerged.

Commenting generally, the British Simmental Cattle Society's President Stewart Stronach said: "Congratulations to the Corskie and Mixbury Hall herds for their Championship wins. I'd also like to extend a massive well done to the Simmental breeders around the UK who have readily supported this competition and in such great numbers. Who would ever have thought we would have seen an entry of 197 cows in any show class, even an online class! Throughout the nine weeks of judging the quality of entries has been superb and the competition has been a lot of fun and a terrific showcase for the Simmental breed. We have been amazed week on week by the reach of the posts and the comments and discussion both domestically and in countries across the world. This year's show really has had a 'wow' factor on so many levels. Whilst we hope to return to summer show rings next year, I'm sure there will be a popular demand for a third staging of the Simmental 'Virtual' Show."

EASY MANAGED SIMMENTALS THRIVING AND IMPROVING QUALITY ON ISLE OF COLONSAY

The easy calving, easy management characteristics of the Simmental sees the breed being a perfect fit to meet the challenges of an island system. Here we take a 'snapshot' look at the Colonsay Estate Farm, situated on the Inner Hebrides of Scotland, and through Joe Robertson, the Estate's Farm Manager.

Looking to improve the quality of the cattle herd on the Isle of Colonsay, farm manager Joe Robertson bought two Simmental bulls to use on the estate's suckler herd five years ago and has never looked back.

He explains: "The cattle need to be hardy and able to look after themselves here. They are wintered outside and calve in the sand dunes. "I hoped that the Simmental would improve the milkiness of the females and that the calves would have plenty vigour about them when first born, and that's very much proved the case."

Joe took on the running of the estate's farm seven years ago, moving to the island with his wife, Lynette. Owned by Lord Strathcona, Alex Howard, the estate extends to 8000 acres, across three holdings, with some 1900 ewes and 150 cows plus followers. Prior to Joe taking on the job, the estate had lacked the consistency of a permanent manager for some years, so there were a number of challenges to overcome with both the sheep and cattle systems.

Joe says: "The cattle need to be easily managed and suit the island system, but I thought I could improve their productivity and profitability, while maintaining the characteristics needed to thrive here.

"I initially bought a Salers bull to increase the size of the females, whilst improving milkiness and pelvis size. I thought these females would be a good cross with the Simmental."

Joe bought two Simmental bulls to use on the females, from Michael Durno's Auchorachan herd; one at a Stirling Sale and one privately.

They go out with the cows on 1st June until the end of July, to keep a fairly tight calving period. "Good calving figures were a must when looking for a bull, but they had to look the part too," says Joe.

The cows all calve on the hill from 1st March onwards, having been fed silage from 1st December and then given cow cobs six weeks before calving. Being in the Agri-Environment Climate Scheme demands that only one cut of silage can be taken, and not until September. In order to reduce wastage, the silage is baled and sits up off the ground on a trailer.

"There's no vet here on Colonsay, so the cattle have to be easy calving and easily managed. We've achieved that with this cross, whilst also improving the quality of the calves and the stock overall. The calves are up and on the go quickly after birth, which is crucial here.

“ Temperament is also a major focus. The cattle are roaming freely and it's essential that they are calm in nature, so if any females give us any bother, they don't get a second chance. "We keep 20-25 heifers each year off the best mothers and the rest of the calves are sold as stores in the autumn, at Dalmally, straight off their mothers."

In October last year, Joe's batch of 18 mainly Simmental cross steers, weighing an average 274.42kg, sold to average £698 at UA's suckled calf sale at Dalmally. For Joe, the quest to improve the stock on the island is an ongoing one, but he's confident that he's found an ideal cross in the Simmental/Salers for both management and quality.

Kilbride Farm Eunice 314L P 6000gns

6000GNS KILBRIDE FARM EUNICE 314L (P) LEADS STRONG EXPORT TRADE AT KILBRIDE FARM PREMIER SIMMENTAL HEIFER SALE

- Top price heifer sells to Australia
- Two heifers sell to Germany
- Four heifers head to Scotland
- Six heifers sell to Republic of Ireland
- Fifteen heifers average £4886

A strong export trade was the theme of the day at the much anticipated premier heifer sale of WH Robson & Sons, Doagh, Ballyclare, Co. Antrim. Held as a timed on-line auction over three days, 19th to 21st August, this export qualified sale celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of the noted and prolific Kilbride Farm pedigree Simmental herd.

On offer was a select high-quality catalogue of yearling and in-calf heifers from the herds main and prolific cow families. In the run up to the sale the Robson family had imaginatively and extensively promoted and marketed the sale through social media with in-depth picture and video content of the animals for sale, and with details of their breeding lines. A number of potential buyers also viewed the animals on-farm. The hard work paid off with the sale, held in conjunction with Ballymena Market and the online MartEye, raising worldwide interest. The top priced heifer was purchased by an Australian buyer, with two further heifers heading to buyers in Germany. Four heifers headed to Scotland, with six going south to the Republic of Ireland, and two remaining with buyers in Northern Ireland. Fifteen heifers sold in all to average a very healthy £4886.

Kilbride Farm Eunice 295K P 5100gns

Leading the way at 6000gns was the August 2020 born Kilbride Farm Eunice 314L (P) who went 'down under' when being purchased by Jeff Knox, Crookwell, New South Wales. Out of Kilbride Farm Eunice 191F, this heifer goes back to the Milnafua Graduate daughter, Eunice 34S. Her sire, Kilbride Farm Hans PP, goes back to K F Fanni 9V who also bred the 12,000gns Kilbride Farm Bantry. As recently as last year, Mr Knox imported 32 embryos from the Kilbride Farm herd and from which he now has pregnancies. From here, agreement has been reached that Kilbride Farm Eunice 314L (P) will be kept at Kilbride Farm where she will be flushed, and with embryos being exported to Mr. Knox thereafter.
